A river runs through it - Green Steps

East Hampshire District Council sent this bulletin at 10-06-2026 03:00 PM BST

A river runs through it

Welcome to the June edition! Several rivers run through East Hampshire, including globally rare chalk streams.

Last year, we recognised the rights of our important local rivers in a bid to protect them from pollution and habitat damage.

This month we're focusing on these important rivers and streams.

We hope you enjoy it!

Come to Liss Riverside Nature Day this Saturday!

Encourage a new generation to love and conserve nature by coming along to Down by the Rother, Liss Riverside Nature Day this Saturday (13 June) from 1-4pm.

There will be lots to do, from a teddy bear's picnic and storytelling to historical talks and river dipping.

The event is free, just pop down.

Report environmental incidents on rivers and streams

If you come across a problem on your local river such as:

- Dead fish or fish gasping for air
- Pollution in the water
- Collapsed or badly damaged riverbanks

It's important that the incident is reported quickly.

You can call the Environment Agency Incident Hotline on 0800 80 70 60 or report it through GOV.UK.

Volunteer for your local rivers trust

Rivers trusts work to protect local rivers and rely heavily on local volunteers to help support their work.

In East Hampshire, we're covered by the Western Sussex Rivers Trust, the Wessex Rivers Trust and the South East Rivers Trust. Visit their websites to find out about volunteering opportunities.

The national organisation, the Rivers Trust, runs the Big River Watch every September, which asks people to spend just 15 minutes watching a river and recording what they see – from wildlife and plants to pollution - in a survey on the Big River Watch app.
